

View this page with this edge up.

This application shows a coffered ceiling that is perfect for situations where low ceiling height is a problem. By creating a presence from width rather than from height, the designer can achieve what would be impractical and inappropriate using traditional design methods. The mouldings used are the AB82 crown extender and the AB025 panel or base cap.